Rob: Mum, Dad, do we have to go to Cornwall again for our holidays? If we go there again this year I will die of boredom. (type I)

Lucy: Yes! I don't want to go back there either! If you decide to go there again I will stay at home. (type I)

Mum: Well... actually, I wouldn't mind if we spent our holidays elsewhere for a change. (type II)

Dad: Well, OK.... what about Scotland? Just imagine... if we spent our holidays in Scotland we could have lovely walks in the mountains. (type II)

Lucy: Walks? Mountains??? Oh no... if we walked all day I wouldn't be able to swim. And you know how much I love to swim. (type II)

Mum: Well, Lucy, I'm sure we could find you a nice and cool mountain stream to sit in.

Rob: Scotland? Cool.... we could go to Loch Ness and I could hunt the Loch Ness Monster. Imagine... if I caught the monster I would be famous! And if I were famous I wouldn't have to go to school any more. (type II)

Dad: Dream on, Rob....

Rob: Or we could get kilts for everyone. My friends would be surprised if I turned up in a kilt. And I'm sure you would love to wear a kilt, Lucy, wouldn't you? (type II)

Lucy: Oh shut it, MacPrescott!

Mum: Calm down, Lucy. But... what about France or Spain?

Lucy: Oh great! France and Spain are hot and sunny countries. If we go there we will have sunshine all day! (type I)

Rob: Lucy, if you lie in the sun all day you will get sunburn! Remember last summer? (type I)

Mum: Well, the weather is certainly a good argument. So if we decide for France or Spain we will come back with a lovely tan. (type I)

Rob: Or peeling noses.

Dad: I'm worried about the food there. I want British food. You know me... if I don't get British food I will be hungry all day. And if I feel hungry I will be grumpy all the time. (type I)

Mum: Oh Derek... if only you tried some other kinds of food you would discover how nice it is! (type II)

Dad: Oh well then... but if you want to go to Spain or France you will organize the trip! Oh, by the way, how will you communicate with the people at the hotel if they don't speak English? (type I)

Lucy: Dad, if you were interested in what Rob and I do at school you would know that we both learn French and Spanish. (type II)

Dad: All right, all right, I give up. But I won't listen to any complaints if it is too hot or if you don't understand a word people say. (type I)
